

Introduction to Correspondents' Reports

In this issue we are introducing a new regular section of PAN, the Correspondents' Reports, in which ecological scholars and writers from various parts of the world will send us snippets describing some recent local event, activity or movement that is helping to green the culture of their region. These journalistic pieces are intended to be newsy and topical, lively and accessible, offering snapshots of new and distinctive developments in (or erosions of) ecological culture in specific national contexts.

It is through these Reports that we plan to keep “activism” at the heart of Philosophy Activism Nature!
